

1. PBS Learning Media

<http://www.pbslearningmedia.org/>

A FREE digital content library designed for PreK-12 educators. Over 30,000 standards-aligned videos, lesson plans, & interactive games. You must create an account (after viewing 3 resource materials) to access the material. Site also has PD some of which is free.

2. NGS Tabletop Map

Explore your world with map themes, data, and tools for customizing your map.

<http://education.nationalgeographic.com/education/maps/americas-mapmaker-kit/?ar a=1>

The tabletop size is separated by continent and is good for small group work. The North America tabletop map is made up of 9 pieces. The South America tabletop map is 8 pieces.

3. NASA Project

This looks like fun, and something that I could spend way too much time doing. It's a NASA project, ID'ing places in photos from space, <http://eol.jsc.nasa.gov/sseop/ImageDetective/>.

4. Sinkholes: When the Earth Opens Up

Images of some of these sinkholes, both man-made and natural, around the world.

<http://www.theatlantic.com/infocus/2013/07/sinkholes-when-the-earth-opens-up/100552/>

5. The Geography of Food in Film

Who doesn't want popcorn when they see a movie? Food and movies go hand-in-hand. When you sprinkle in some geography, it adds that je ne sais quoi that makes it spectacular!

Find a list of films that have the Kung-pao mix at <http://education.nationalgeographic.com/news/geography-food-film>.

5. Wyoming Supercell Time-Lapse "Time Lapse of storm"

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VoO89cqDgIU>

6. Sailors for the Sea KELP

<http://sailorsforthesea.org/programs/kelp>

Kids Environmental Lesson Plans (KELP) are fun, environmentally-minded and solution-oriented lesson plans created with informal educators in mind. These activities help students and educators understand what's beneath their hull.

7. Capital Toss - http://www.abcya.com/capital_toss.htm

8. Quizzity

<http://david-peter.de/quizzity/>

Quizzity presents you with the name of a city and you have to click on the map where you think that city is in the world. To increase the accuracy of your guesses you should zoom-in on a region before clicking the map. Each round presents you with six city names. Points are awarded for accuracy and speed.

9. Powerful Collection of Pictures Showing Overpopulation/Overconsumption

"How do you raise awareness about population explosion? One group thought that the simplest way would be to show people" Eye opening and sad.

<http://www.theguardian.com/global-development-professionals-network/gallery/2015/apr/01/over-population-over-consumption-in-pictures>

10. My Life Elsewhere

MyLifeElsewhere is a neat tool that allows you to compare and contrast the country you live in (United States) with other countries around the world. You will find some cool stats that differentiate your country from others. If you had been born in another country, what would your life have been like? <http://www.mylifeelsewhere.com/>